

Payments and Benefits Disclosure Information for Strata Corporations

BC Financial Services Authority is the legislated regulatory agency that works to ensure real estate professionals have the skills and knowledge to provide you with a high standard of service. All real estate professionals must follow rules that help protect consumers, like you. We're here to help you understand your rights as a real estate consumer.

Keep this information page for your reference.

The strata manager providing services to your strata corporation has a duty to disclose to you, in writing, any direct or indirect:

- payments the strata manager or the strata management company receives or anticipates receiving that come from sources other than your strata corporation; and/or
- benefits (such as financial gains) that the strata manager or strata management company (or an associate) receives or anticipates receiving as a result of making an expenditure on behalf of your strata corporation.

The disclosure will include:

- the source of the payment or benefit;
- the amount of payment or type of benefit or the likely amount or method of calculation; and
- any relevant facts about the payment or benefit.

Your strata manager may use a Disclosure of Remuneration (Payments and Benefits): Strata Management Services form to disclose these payments and/or benefits to you. This form includes space for the strata manager to indicate the annual aggregate amount (or estimate) of the payments or benefits. This will help your strata corporation to understand the various sources of payments or benefits the strata management company will receive each year. At a minimum you should receive this disclosure at the beginning of each year for anticipated payments or benefits and again at the end of each year to document actual payment or benefits earned.
